

Leave a Legacy-Make a Gift that Impacts Thousands

When you make a gift to the Environmental Science Center Endowment and Program Development Fund you are allowing ESC to expand programs that help community members deepen their relationship with the local environment, inspiring the next generation of environmental leaders.

You give because you care about getting young scientists outside. Students who have access to scientific tools at a young age are more likely to pursue STEM careers in the future. Every year, the Environmental Science Center guides thousands of students through the scientific process on our local beaches, riparian habitats, and school gardens thanks to generous contributions from donors like you.

You've lived a legacy, now you can leave a legacy.

A gift to the ESC Endowment and Program Development Fund is a powerful thing that leaves a lasting imprint on the world. Your generous contribution will provide a source of long-term funding for the organization. You believe in breaking barriers so all people can enjoy the innate value of nature's property to teach. ESC may identify exceptional program development opportunities that both further the mission and contribute to ESC's future financial stability. The ESC board may choose to pay out an additional portion of the Endowment Fund Principal to invest in these opportunities.

We really appreciate your support that will be put to work supporting the things you care so passionately about: your environment, your community, and your world. Together, we are getting young scientists outside and fostering the next generation of environmental leaders.

Thank you!
